For immediate release: As a man from the millennial generation, Jeremy Howard can relate to today's young husbands while showing them how to be Christ-like in their marriage. In his new book You're the Husband: A Blueprint for Leading in Marriage, (Ambassador International; March 15, 2017; $11.99, paperback) Howard takes us through Scripture to demonstrate what the Lord asks of men in their role of a husband. Howard isn't afraid to tell it like it is and get to the core of why so many are struggling to be a Godly leader.

Using Scripture verses and personal accounts of marriage, Howard writes a blueprint for both the newlywed and the more experienced husband while incorporating a plan of action after each chapter. Common struggles are shared in his book and common, worldly solutions are replaced with solutions from the Word of God. Howard says, "It is abundantly clear that God did not design marriage to be easy. He didn't even design it to give us total satisfaction, fulfillment, peace, or joy. Each of those qualities can and should accompany a godly marriage, but Jesus makes it clear where men and women will find their peace: 'Come to me, all who labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest' (Matthew 11:28, emphasis added)."

About the Author: Jeremy Howard (B.S., Calvary University) is a missionary pastor at Payson Bible Church in Payson, UT. He and his wife, Melissa, have been married for six years and are from the small town of Sedalia, Missouri. They have two sons and are avid St. Louis Cardinals fans. Jeremy loves Jesus, his family, baseball, newspapers, and talk radio. Read more on his website, jeremyhoward.net.

Suggested Interview Questions for the Author:

1. What led you to write You're the Husband?
2. In your experience, how common is it to find Christian husbands who just want to “get by”?
3. How do you hope your book will awaken the millennial generation and encourage them to follow Scripture?
4. How will it help those who are older or more experienced yet stuck in a rut in their marriage?
5. As you wrote You're the Husband, did you find it challenging to practice what you preached?
6. You mentioned that there is a growing trend among Christian couples that encourages a worldly viewpoint of marriage. Why do you think that is?
7. In a day and age where giving up and moving on is so normal, how would you fight that stance?

Endorsements:

“Jeremy Howard identifies with both the new husband who wants to start the race strong and with the experienced husband who falls into a rut yet desires to please the Lord as a leader in the home. In You're the Husband, he explains the instructions from the Bible with simplicity.”

Steven Wong

Senior Pastor Fellowship Bible Church, Belmont, CA

“He masterfully navigates through six key principles of leadership in marriage and provides practical homework assignments that will implement God’s Word in the husband/leader. Men: read this book!”

Paul Seger

Director Biblical Ministries Worldwide, Atlanta, GA

“In this unstable environment, author Jeremy Howard dares to remind families what it will take to restore that sense of hope and security, and it begins by going back to the basics, more specifically the role of the husband. With a great deal of prayer, sound research, and biblical insight, Jeremy walks the husband through how to be a consistent biblical leader in the home.”
